

GIG STAND

At last! A portable music stand that's in a class by itself!

Put an end to the frustration of flimsy, tipsy, portable wire music stands. Wenger's Gig stand is the most sturdy, solid, inventive portable music stand ever built.

The Gig stand looks different because it is different. Designed to adjust and lock into positions other portable stand makers haven't even thought of. Look into a Gig for the performance you've always wanted in a portable stand.

GIG STAND

The convenience of a portable with the sturdiness of a classroom stand.

The Gig portable music stand is no pushover. It stands up to the weight of an oversized folder loaded with music. Solid, durable. Built to endure all the banging around that a heavy travel schedule can dish out. Sets up and adjusts in seconds and holds its position tight until the musician changes it.

Only the Gig stand adjusts to the extra low positions preferred by jazz bands, guitarists and chamber ensembles. Simply raise the swing-lift arm and extend it to reach over timpani or handbell tables bringing the music up high and close to the performer. High, low or any position in between is equally simple and solid. When the performance is over, just fold up the Gig stand, grab the handle and go.

Don't put a solid performance at risk by using a flimsy wire stand. Don't settle for inflexible classroom stands that were never meant for traveling. Go with Gig stands and go in style.
